Subject: Re: Request for editorial decision for manuscript number 2014_AIR_13710

I have had the chance to read the original subscription as well as the revisions based on reviewer's marks.

The authors have presented a concise and straightforward evaluation of Mental Illness and Co-morbidity issues based on a substantial review of existing access data from 2008-2011. The authors build a solid case that underscores the importance of access to this data given an extremely high access record. The complexity of these conditions was said to underscore the importance of timely and accurate understanding of what can present as complex conditions.

The authors have made the requested changes, and it is my opinion that this paper should be published in Advances in Research given its timeliness, and clear empirical justification. Readers will find it very helpful.
