PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
This paper is not suitable for publication. It adds nothing to existing debates on the topic and the methodology is flawed. A scientific paper should add to the existing knowledge on a topic which this paper unfortunately do not. The language and technical issues were not sufficiently addressed. Even the title has grammatical errors. Please see my comments on the document.	I disagree with the reviewer because the paper Was able bring to fore the challenges in the Dissemination of agricultural information using ICT. Further Research could be done to enhance the Delivery of agricultural information However the issues raised in the materials and methods And the conclusion had been addressed.
