PART 2:

Editorial Comment:	Author's Feedback
The article is well written, and the topic is covered well But, there is one thing that should be corrected - the introduction is too long comparing with the Lit Review. The introduction was over two and a half pages, while the Lit Rev. is less than two pages. I believe that this is not wise I suggest including part of the introduction in the Lit. Review, since it is supported by statistical figures and facts about the sector. The introduction shouldn't be bigger than the Lit Rev.	The researchers quite appreciated the editor who has utilized his experience or prowess on this paper. The instructions of the editor were adequately followed, in other words the Lit Review is now bulking than the introduction relatively.
