| Compulsory REVISION comments | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The paper is timely and pertinent. However, the data used in the paper must be updated. Most of the data used are 2008 while we are in last quarter of 2014. If possible case studies must be done to substantiate the generalization used in the article.</li> <li>As the impact of the land eviction violation of human rights must be indicated as people are forcefully evicted from their land by the government.</li> <li>There are incoherencies in the article. For instance, on page two first paragraph, the figures indicated are not consistent (2.4 million indicated as overall land acquired while 3.9 million + 1.2 million indicated for Sudan and Ethiopia). Such kind of sentence must be checked throughout the paper.</li> <li>Organization of the paper must be reflected in the introduction including the methodology employed.</li> <li>Policy recommendations must be reflected on how these countries get benefits from the existing arrangements like leveraging for greater development of the country. This can be done in relation to the outcomes from the econometric model analysis.</li> <li>Comments are not integrated in the final</li> </ul> | We have made the necessary adjustment here, it was actually a miss-up in the original article, the date used stopped at 2010. This has been addressed, the latter case should comprise both foreign and local land deals We have suggested strengthening of institutions and civic society which will ensure a win-win arrangement. |
