Subject: Re: Request for final decision for manuscript number 2013 AJEA 3690

This manuscript is very interesting. However, read this manuscript was very hard because there are some grammatical and typographical errors.

The authors should carefully read the entire manuscript. Thereafter, it paper should be checked by a native English speaking scientist for both grammar and clarity.

Remember that references must be listed at the end of the manuscript and numbered in the order that they appear in the text. Every reference referred in the text must also present in the reference list and vice versa.

Reference 44 (Table 1) is missing in the References section.

Reference [30] is missing in the References section.

The References section is not according the "General Guideline for Authors". Please check this section because there are some mistakes.

After that, the manuscript could be ready for publication.

The article should be rejected. However, I think worth sending to a second reviewing (R2) because the investigation is well posed and the material is interesting.
