| Even though I spent a week on correcting many mistakes in this article, I now see that the author didn't correct them because he thinks that these aren't any mistakes either. However, the author should not forget that such academic articles to be published in the international magazines should be written according to international spelling rules which are standard everywhere and they cannot be changed arbitrarily on the wish of the author. The corrected form of this article is the first version that I sent you before and this article should be corrected according to it. | I really appreciate most of your comment. It was very detailed. Most of the comments you raised per the previous review has already been incorporated in the revised manuscript (highlighted yellow) in my response to the comments. Kindly find out from the Editor in case you did not receive a copy of the revised paper. However, in the field of academia we are all open to new ideas. In as much as I agree with most of your comments, I had some reservation about some of them. I respectfully disagree with some of your comments and I still stand by that. Thank you very much for taking time to review my work. I really appreciate it very much. It has been a learning process. |
