Compulsory REVISION comments	In text wherever the changes are needed the word or part of the sentences highlighted with comments in the margin of the text. The minor revision is required and the details are mentioned in the manuscript. It would be appropriate if some recent references could be incorporated in the manuscript.
Minor REVISION comments	There are some minor revisions which have been annotated in the text, highlighted with comments written there.
Optional/General comments	A very interesting paper and would like to congratulate the researchers. The information presented here could be used as a baseline for implementing the research idea and results for soil fertility management in Tanzania where these elements are major constraints for crop production. I strongly recommend the publication of manuscript with some minor revisions.
