Subject: Re: Request for final decision for manuscript number 2013 BJAST 3277

Attached are my comments. You may use it to communicate with the authors. It took me longer time to evaluate this manuscript than I expected. The following comments are my personal opinion for peers in the editorial board.

The biggest problem for this manuscript is English. In my opinion, the writing is unacceptable for journal publication. Since the authors are not able to effectively communicate their achievement, the quality of the research has been comprised. No readers are obliged to endure bad English.

Fortunately, the research results of the manuscript are acceptable after modification. This is the main reason why I spent a lot of time and effort to review this manuscript. In the second of part of my evaluation, I have addressed several technical problems that need to be fixed.

Should you have any questions about this evaluation, please don't hesitate to contact me. Thank you again for your invitation.
