

Line 26: "requirement" to "required". "requirement" has been changed to "required" as suggested. Check line 26 in the Microsoft text.

Line 40: "Co2" to "CO2". "Co2" has been changed to "CO2" as suggested. Check line 40 in the Microsoft text.

Line 89: "totats" to "totals". "totats" has been changed to "totals". Check line 89 in the Microsoft text.

Line 95-96: delete it due to repetition of line 87. Lines 95-96 have been deleted due to repetition of line 87. Check line 95-96 in the Microsoft text.

Line 122: "0C" , Is that a zero? No. it means degree centigrade. Check line 121 in the Microsoft text.

Line 132: "NH40AC" to "NH4OAC" (Is that a zero?) No. It means ammonium acetate. "NH40AC" has been changed to "NH4OAC" as suggested. Check line 131 in the Microsoft text.

Line 137: do you mean "ruler"? Yes. Therefore "measuring rule" has been changed to ruler. Check line 137 in the Microsoft text.

Line 139: do you mean "breadth"? Yes. Therefore "breath" has been changed to "breadth". Check line 139 in the Microsoft text.

Line 157: OM has not been defined yet for abbreviation. OM has been defined for abbreviation in line 128.i.e. OM (organic matter).

Table 3 is showing the mean effect from those measurement at 2, 4, 6, 8 months. It is not showing the individual effect at each time of measurement. Yes. Because there were no significant effects at each time of measurement.

Line 207: do you mean "second cropping season"? Yes. Therefore "second crop" has been changed to "second cropping season". Check line 207 in the Microsoft text.

Line 217: "depended" to "depends". "depended" has been changed to "depends" as suggested. Check line 217 in the Microsoft text.

For all the figures, remove "0" on the x-axis between those 2 years. For all the figures, we have removed "0" on the x-axis between those 2 years as suggested. Check figures 1, 2 and 3 in the Microsoft text.

In addition, make sure to be consistent using past tense or present tense when citing earlier studies. For example, Line 249-250, you used present tense. Please check other places for those like this example. We have been consistent using past tense when citing earlier studies. Other places for those like this example have been corrected as suggested.