Compulsory REVISION comments	The paper is good and the subject is interesting. However the paper must be re-written with the following changes: - Many words are collapsed; they have to be separated by spaces... - The algorithm is not clear, flowchart must be added - Links to related recent work must be added - I would like to see few samples, e.g. text in Arabic, its summary using the proposed system and the human summary - How to measure systematically the difference between your method and the human one, given that one text may be summarize it differently with two different people... - The similarity index a bit high (25%) After this fundamental revision, i will be happy to again review the paper .
Minor REVISION comments
