

SDI FINAL EVALUATION FORM 1.1

PART 1:

Journal Name:	British Journal of Economics, Management & Trade
Manuscript Number:	2013_BJEMT_8684
Title of the Manuscript:	Concentration of Portfolios on the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange After Currency Reform

PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
The authors seem to have incorporated at a minimum most of the suggested changes. However, two problems still remain: a) the lack of recent literature and b) the rush of the authors to finish the results section without discussing their findings (the results section is written in almost 700 words, while the whole text is 5,500 words; I find this very limited). I still believe that the Annexes do not add anything to the reader and are not necessary. On the other hand, I believe that the authors either do not want or are not capable of adopting the above remarks. Therefore, as the paper is interesting, I suggest that the editor should decide if further changes should be requested, or the paper should be published. In my opinion, the authors should try more and find relevant literature to discuss their findings.	We have made changes in the discussion by linking our findings to literature and we removed the annexures. All changes we highlighted in yellow.