- The abstract is to be curtailed to 150-200 words (if possible). - Give an outline of the paper at the end of introduction - Section sub headings has to discussed at the starting of each section (eg: In Section 2, just after the title "METHODOLOGY", describe that ' in this section discusses the methodology relating to Characteristics of Prime Cost Calculation in Higher Education, A Model for the Specification of Education Prime Costs with Post-Calculation and Calculation Scheme'. These kinds of additions will improve the appeal of the manuscript.). This change should include in Section 3 also.	- We curtailed the abstract to under 300 words which was the number of words allowed by the journal's general guideline for authors (available here: http://www.sciencedomains.org/page/general-guideline-for-authors). We tried to make the abstract as concise as possible but we believe further shortening could result in the abstract not being informative enough. - We provided an outline at the end of the introduction (marked in yellow). - We have added the brief discussion of the section sub headings at all relevant places (also marked in yellow). Thank you for your valuable comments!
