

SDI FINAL EVALUATION FORM 1.1

PART 1:

Journal Name:	British Journal of Education, Society & Behavioural Science
Manuscript Number:	2014_BJESBS_12574
Title of the Manuscript:	PSYCHOLOGICAL CAPITAL: Capital in terms of Psychology
Type of the Article	Review Article

PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
This manuscript remains poorly written. The following are four examples of poorly constructed sentences and there are many more. Pronouns and commas have been omitted and there are still spelling errors In today's ever-changing world, effectively managed human resources necessitate and mostly bring with different management approaches and thoughts Positive characteristics and thoughts will bring with positive experiences and relationships. This paper is structured with these goals and organized as follows in the back of introduction section under the light of theory based researches: In an ever-changing world, it is necessary to analyze effectively the human sources as a main central capital of the firms which play an important role in success. Demir (2011) also highlighted that since the beginning of management researches which began with the studies of Hawthorne, the relationships between psychological emotions of employees and their performances and efficiency are hypostasised	Ok, paper has been revised again by third party who lives in the USA and English is his first language. Thanks for your suggestions and patience. Grammatical errors have been corrected.