PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
The reviewer noticed the authors had addressed most previous comments and the quality of the paper is significantly improved. There are still many minor issues need to fixed before the publication: 1. Some two words were connected which should be separated by a space, such as: Page 1: "reflectedby" to "reflected by"; "the Russian" to "the Russian"; "byothers" to "by others". There are MANY such errors in the revised manuscripts on all most every page. Please fix them. 2. Page 2: the first line, "...denote the true error..." to "... denotes the true error..." 3. Some similar grammar errors should be fixed. 4. Page 3: "This theory is composed of three fundamental functions." The first function is missing. Please add it. 5. Page 3: "The real benefit generated from multiple sources are..." should be change to "The real benefit generated from multiple sources is..." 6. Page 3: "The fundamental assumption of the Dempster -Shafer theory that sources are used to be independent." There is some grammar error and the sentence is confusing. 7. Figure 1. Flow chart of DSCML: some text was cut off. Need to be fixed. 8. Font size in Table 2 should be fixed for the last two columns. 9. Page 10: "athttp" should be changed to "at http". There are many similar errors throughout the entire manuscript. Please read it carefully and fix them. 10. Table 3: font size should be same and text colour should be same. Plus, in "10xCV on the total set !!!", is the "!!!" necessary? There are still so many typos and grammar errors. The authors should read the entire manuscript and fix all of them.	The authors respect and accept all FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper. The authors ensure the comments are done. And, prove that by sending the revised paper in two shapes: word ,PDF for preventing errors from sending word.
