

Editorial comments:

The list of references still looks strange. Authors should check instruction on the journal web site. The main problem are journal acronyms, that does not follow international classification, e.g., European Journal of Clin Micro & Infect Dis : Official Publication of the European Society of Clin Micro should be presented as Eur J ClinMicrobiol Infect Dis. All such data should be double checked before resubmission. DOI number is not obligatory or should be presented for all references.

Author's feedback:

The authors have made necessary changes on the journal acronyms, DOI numbers were removed to made all references uniform.
