Subject: Re: Request for evaluation of revised paper, reference number 2013_BJPR_3698

Please, see attached my final comments on the revised version of the MS 2013_BJPR_3698, which was reassessed as requested.

I carefully checked everything the authors did, as well as considered their reply to my comments.

Please, evaluate my comments carefully, as I pretty much leave the final decision on your hands! The revised version of the MS definitely improved from the previous version, but I still feel some extra data would be needed to "round" it better... But, if you feel this is not as critical as the other things they already corrected, then the MS is suitable for publication (after the few minor extra changes I'm suggesting).
