

Thank you for your submitting paper “Factors involved in the early events of spore germination and host colonization by Botrytis cinerea”. The manuscript introduced the effect of various physical, chemical and nutritional factors on germination of B. cinerea conidia. But the research is not entirely clear. I hope that the authors should revise the manuscript as following.

1 The Latin in the manuscript should be write with full name” for the first time and with “abbreviation” in the follow time. Please revise carefully.

Done

2 The Figure2 should use mathematical statistics, describe the important viewpoint only with the figure is hard to believe.

Figure 1 described the statistical variation between treatments of this parameter. Figure 2 was presented just to give the reader a feeling of what was going on in respect of conidial concentration influence on germination.

3 The References should be revise with specifically form conscientiously.

Revised

Please revise the manuscript carefully before submission. At least 10 mistakes can be found in the manuscript. Most of them are typo errors. This manuscript will accept after author carefully

Revised, thank you.
