Subject: Re: Request for final decision for manuscript number 2012 IJTDH 2662

Thanks for sharing this revision with me for the final evaluation.

My comments and decision on manuscript 2012 IJTDH 2662 are given below:

Manuscript ID: 2012 IJTDH 2662 R2:

The authors should be commended for their research efforts. However, the manuscript is poorly written as indicated by the reviewers. A few sections of this manuscript are totally non-readable; the findings have been duplicated in text and table both. The discussion appears an extension of results only and in-depth analysis is grossly missing. There is some new information but not presented to merit a publication.

As authors have already been given two chances to improvise and the final revision doesn't appear appropriate for publication in the journal.

Final decision: Reject.
