Compulsory REVISION comments	This article have no emergent novelty, and only a survey, because the cancer epidemiological Feature of cancer is so clear, and have many details to revise: 1. Line 25, survival length, should be survival time 2. Line 43, "cancer caused 7.6 deaths worldwide in 2008" only 7.6 deaths ?? 3. Line 76-78, from 1756 cases you can conclude females are more affected by cancer than males? Many articles have confirmed males are more affected by cancer than females. 4. Line 137, 138, "lenght" should be length 5. the bibliography was too old	Thank for your opinion. The novelty of this paper is not the epidemiological profile but the investigation of some risk factors related to cancer. 1. You are right, but in literature "survival length" is more used than "survival time". 2. We corrected it : 7.6 million deaths. 3. Females are more affected by cancer because breast and cervix cancers, which are female cancers, are the most frequent in Morocco. 4. Done 5. We used references that are not far from the period of the present study.
