PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
I appreciate modifications done by the authors. It looks better now. Nonetheless there is a room for improvement: 1) Table 1 was copied and pasted from another publication. This way is not acceptable; please prepare your own table. In addition, had the authors obtained an approval from the Journal Food Research International whether they can replicate that table? There is a serious violation of copy right issue here. 2) Please modify Table 2 to contain 4 columns instead: First column = type of in vitro test; Second column = the advantage; Third column = the disadvantage; Fourth column = relevant references. This will help readers to find the relevant references if they want to know more about, for example, RAST. 3) Please elaborate legend for Figure 1.	1) The table was altered - we made our own table, based on the same information 2) The table 2 was modified according to the suggestions. 3) We corrected the legend for figure 1, by adding the name of the respective allergen sources: peanut, apple, gramineae.
