| The revised manuscript is far better as a scientific article in its field, but there are two points which should be mentioned. 1-As I see in new title, the author has used abbreviation in it. The abbreviation in manuscript is ok but in title not permitted. 2-My recommendation to correct the term of oculomotor movements to those movements studied is done in title and many parts of manuscript but not in conclusion, which must be corrected. | The abbreviation in the title has been replaced as follows: Fast Eye Movements And Slow Eye Movements In Congenital Neurosensorial Deaf Subjects As Assessed By 2D video-Oculography™ The generic term of oculomotor pattern has been changed into saccadic and slow pursuit oculomotor pattern and saccadic and slow pursuit oculomotor function in the discussion and conclusion section, respectively. |
