Although many of the grammatical errors have been corrected by the authors which improve the manuscript flow, no additional text has been written to support the findings and hypothesis. No additional references were used or cited for discussion of the hypothesis - this was a major criticism and must be addressed for successful publication quality. Arrows were added to the photographs but there was no clear description for them. I am still not sure if the treatment was created by the author or is standard in the clinic.
