PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
The previous comments have been incorporated. But the question... What is novelty in the work is still unanswered....! My earlier reviewed comments were to justify the rejection, as I awarded 3 marks giving the message of Strongly rejected. The earlier version was showing an initial level of research and publication efforts, making some of the technical and common sense errors. Still the paper manuscript was considered for revision and resubmission, and then I should say that now after incorporating the suggestions given by all reviewers, it may be considered for publication.
